Re: Aim High International – Termination of Lease

Friends,

Aim High earlier this year negotiated a long-term lease of the building which promised to be of benefit for both the parish and the community at large. Unfortunately, Aim High was unable to meet some important deadlines to secure the lease, including such items as timely proof of insurance for the premises and payment of the required initial deposit, even though the parish agreed to extend some of the deadlines. Ultimately, Aim High advised the parish that it had decided to terminate the lease and vacate the premises.

Notably the land upon which the former school building sits is owned in the name of the Bishop, so all matters involving lease of the premises were handled with input from the Diocese, including legal counsel for the Diocese. The parish will now again work to market the property to appropriate and qualified parties, always keeping in mind our duty to be good stewards for the parish.
